CLUB NEWS: I was so impressed with the article on a visit to a Pennsylvania bank by the CCCC club, that I edited it and am using it for a feature article this issue with Permission of the member club.

As you can see, we have no new members to report. This is the first time that has happened since I begin editing the Rag Picker in 1991. Make an effort this month to recruit a new member. We include a membership application each issue, so ask a friend, take the application to your coin club. Our future depends on new members!

Editor's Notes: This issue I want to make an appeal for a few Rag Pickers I am missing. We have an opportunity to have our Rag Picker Magazine issues enshrined in Eric P. Newman's Portal site of Numismatic Magazines. This is a free service that will put all our archives on the internet for collectors or researchers to utilize. This action has been approved by membership vote at the 2016 meeting. However, I am just getting to it as a result of illness in the family and a big move back to the Metro Detroit area. In that move I lost some issues. Will someone email or phone me and send the missing books on loan. I will return them when we get the library back from the Portal site. They will pay shipping postage to and from and will enter our archives on the site. I think to avoid cheapskates from dropping membership and getting our info free, I will send them in once a year to keep the records current. Hopefully this will also result in exposure for our club and a few new members. You get a Free Want Ad blank (yellow) and a membership app (blue) with each issue, so think about signing up a few friends. The issues I am missing are:

2001-July-Sept • 02-Jan-March • 03-Jan-March & July-Sept

04-July-Sept • 05-July-Sept • 07-Jan-March • 08-All • 09-all

10-Jan-March&July-Sept. • 11-All • 12-Jan-March& April-June

14-Jan-March&April-June/Oct-Dec • 15-all/16-Jan-March.

Write, Email or call me at 586-214-1444. Hopefully the next time you read about this it will be that they have been sent off.

OUR COVER: This month's cover is a note I picked up from Canadian dealer Don Olmstead, an 1897 $2 Dominion of Canada note featuring the Prince of Wales, soon to become Edward VII a few years later. My collecting object was to procure all the British Monarchs that have been featured on Canadian notes. Edward VIII was problematic as he is only shown as the Prince of Wales. He was never crowned Edward VIII, but did sit for a short time. Edward the VII is available as the King, but very costly, so I am captured him also as a Prince of Wales.

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN:

As usual, we had a great time at the Michigan State Show. Lots of tables and good attendance. As I mentioned earlier I reported to the membership that I would solicit the missing volumes and send them off to the Eric Newman Webb site. This is a great project and the Numismatists of Wisconsin have already taken advantage of it. Attendance was about ten of us and after a short business meeting we watched a video on collecting Small Size Notes that was informational and we adjourned with a few free books for members that didn't attend the 60th Anniversary banquet on Friday night. Attendees received a nice intaglio print, a rolled 1956 half dollar and a copy of the 7th edition of The comprehensive Catalog of U.S/ Paper Money by Hessler and Chambliss. This is an excellent reference and indeed comprehensive. I recommend it heartily.

I also must apologize for the lateness of this issue. I have had to deal with a lot of family complications, but I think things are getting better and you should get your next issue by the end of March. Thanks for your patience.

Bill Brandimore, President PMCM

A Visit to a Columbia, Pennsylvania Bank

Edited By Bill Brandimore

The bank occupies the two front corner rooms of the 1814 Federal-style townhouse built as an elegant home for wealthy merchant, James Wright, Jr., grandson of Columbia's founding father, John Wright, Sr.

In 1852 Gerhardt Brandt purchased the property and rented the corner of the building to Solomon & Daniel Detwiler.
It became Detwiler Brothers Bank.

In 1860, Solomon Detwiler bought the entire property and moved his residence into the remaining portion of the building. The bank, and its owners, the Detwiler family, occupied the property for over 100 years from 1852 until 1954.

In 1864, as part of the National Bank Law, the Detwilers chartered their bank with $100,000 capital. The First National Bank of Columbia became the 371st bank chartered in the USA.

In 1917, FNB of Columbia merged with Columbia National Bank, becoming First-Columbia National Bank. This bank subsequently moved up the street to 229 Locust Street. Upon the passing of the Detwilers, the property was left to The Columbia Free Public Library and purchased from the library by Lloyd & Jean Motter in 1958.

Upon the deaths of Lloyd & Jean Motter, their daughter, Nora, and husband, Michael Stark, purchased the property in 1997 and, to this day, manage and operate the museum, continuing the restoration and the collection of original bank documents. Many are on display in the bank now.

Details from the bank's working years survive, such as the walnut paying and receiving teller cages, the furnishings of the President's office, the massive walk-in vault, and the original check canceller consisting of a tree stump and a specially-designed hammer. There is even a bullet hole where the only known attempted robbery at the bank was foiled!
